It's never been so simple and inexpensive to seal your pumps with a cartridge:

Unitex[®]

... the „lots for little“ cartridge mechanical seal

The new Unitex[®] from Burgmann is the most inexpensive way to reduce assembly costs and avoid assembly errors.

The Unitex[®] elastomer bellows cartridge seal covers a wide range of applications in the medium pressure and load range, irrespective of whether it is used in the chemicals or foodstuffs industries or in the broad spectrum of water and waste water applications.
Fits in all conventional stuffing boxes without the need for complicated adaptation work.

On the pump shaft ... ready ... go!

Advantages for the user

- Quick and easy to fit: With Unitex[®], you reduce assembly costs and avoid assembly errors
- No changes to existing pump installation spaces
- Very good value for money: Unitex[®] is the „lots for little“ cartridge seal
- Extensive range in stock, with metric and inch dimensions
- The bellows seal used has received the technical certification from major global pump manufacturers
- All units have a flushing connection according to API Plan 11 for cleaning and cooling the sealing chamber

Technical advantages

- The bellows and spring are free from torsional stress, for a long service life (positive application of force to the seal face via the L-ring)
- No adhesive-bonded connections
- Compact, one-part bellows unit with a fixed seal face for reliable operation (no deposits can collect between the bellows and seal face, so misalignment is not possible)
- Precise centering between the cover and seal unit achieved by use of four mounting fixtures
- Large clearance between the cover, stuffing box chamber and seal to assist self-cleaning and cooling of the stuffing box chamber
- Very thick flange for highly rigid cover to protect against misalignment (bowing) when the cover is bolted onto the pump housing, thereby avoiding gasket leaks
